Golden Daylight

Warm breeze brushes my soul
Most what I need to keep me whole
The air soft and moist and light
Makes all the day as fine as night

Hey golden daylight
Touch sky and ground
Make all the darkness 'round me shine

Hey golden daylight
Touch sky and ground
Make all the darkness 'round me shine

Warm pulse flowing in my veins
Like a horse without the reins
Feel the beat that sets the trend
How this could end can't comprehend

Hey golden daylight
Touch sky and ground
Make all the darkness 'round me shine

Hey golden daylight
Touch sky and ground
Make all the darkness 'round me shine

How can you say it's wrong?
Without the sense of song
How can you say what's right?
Until you've seen the light

Watching the shadows grow
All I feel is all I know
Don't need eyes to love this sight
And I give in without a fight

Hey golden daylight
Touch sky and ground
Make all the darkness 'round me shine

Hey golden daylight
Touch sky and ground
Make all the darkness 'round me shine
